

Part 1

- When both are low, then no input/output, so no change.
When both are high, then both write and read. So the value will enter RAM and then become the output.

Part 2

-